THE CHICAGO BAR ASSOCIATION IN-COURT LAWYER REFERRAL SERVICE REGULATIONS AND RULES

The In-Court Lawyer Referral Service is a model program established by The Chicago Bar Association at the behest of the Circuit Court of Cook County. The Program offers a service to both the courts and the public through the provision of quality legal counsel at a reasonable cost to defendants who appear in court without private counsel and need an attorney. In-Court participants are a qualified, select group of attorneys who exemplify the finest qualities of the legal profession and possess knowledge and expertise in the courts for which approved, whether it be Traffic Court, the Misdemeanor courts, or the Felony/Preliminary hearing courts.

Because of the special and unique relationship between the In-Court attorneys and the Court system, In-Court attorneys are held to the highest standards of professional conduct in accordance with the Code of Professional Conduct of the Illinois Supreme Court. In-Court attorneys must at all times display exemplary behavior, while serving as an attorney for the In-Court program or otherwise, and always must be careful to avoid even the appearance of impropriety. Participation in the In-Court Lawyer Referral Service is a privilege and not a matter of right; continued participation is contingent upon adherence to the high standards required by The Chicago Bar Association, as well as the Code of Professional Conduct, the Rules of the Circuit Court of Cook County, and the In-Court Lawyer Referral Service Regulations and Rules.

Lawyers participating in the In-Court Lawyer Referral Service must abide by the following rules:

1. The attorney must appear promptly on dates assigned and be available for the entire court call.
2. The attorney must be willing to accept all referrals for conference without fee. If an appearance by the attorney is filed, that attorney will enter into a fee agreement with the client and is thereafter required to continue with the case to conclusion unless withdrawal is allowed by the court (representation at preliminary hearing is concluded by finding of probable cause, no probable cause, or plea).
3. Bar attorneys should keep Rule 1.4 of the Illinois Rules of Professional Conduct in mind when negotiating fees. Fees should always be reasonable, and take into account the amount of time required and the nature and length of the professional relationship with the client, as well as the fee customarily charged for similar legal services.
4. The attorney should remember that the In-Court Lawyer Referral Service is designed to provide quality legal counsel to defendants who appear in court without private counsel and desire same.
5. The attorney is required to assist the Court in making determination of indigency at the Court's request without fee.
6. The attorney is required to pay an annual registration fee as established by the Association.
7. All assigned dates are made to a specific attorney and are solely that attorney's responsibility and not assignable to any other attorney, even to a member of the same firm.
8. An assigned attorney must report to the In-Court Administrator or LRS Director any need for cancellation at least 24 hours in advance of court appearance. A conflict of court date shall not be considered an acceptable reason of cancellation of court assignment. Sanctions may be taken against attorneys who fail to appear on assigned court dates, who cancel assignments because of court date conflicts, or who appear late in court or leave prior to the end of the court call.
9. Any disputes as to fees are subject to binding arbitration by The Chicago Bar Association's Professional Fees Committee.
10. Misinformation in the attorney's application for the Program shall be grounds for denial of application or removal from the Program.
11. Any violation of the Code of Professional Conduct of the Illinois Supreme Court or the Rules of the Circuit Court or failure to comply with any of these Regulations and Rules shall result in the removal of the attorney from the Program. No In-Court attorney is permitted to initiate contact with a prospective client. Any form of solicitation is strictly prohibited. This rule will be strictly enforced.

I have read the foregoing Regulations and Rules of The Chicago Bar Association's In-Court Lawyer Referral Service and agree to abide by these rules. I understand that my participation in the In-Court Lawyer Referral Service is a privilege and not a matter of right and may be suspended or revoked at any time. I further agree to abide by and recognize the finality of decisions of the In-Court Screening Committee.
